ICSC: Chicagoland Retail Connection 2015

Over 130 retailers seeking locations in Chicagoland

The 2015 Chicagoland Retail Connection provided economic development staff with the ability to meet and interact with retailers, brokers and restaurant/entertainment operators seeking locations in the Chicagoland area. Restaurants (quick and full service) represented the most in retail categories. There were very few retail banks, department and grocery stores expanding. In fact, sales have declined in most department stores in the U.S. in May-July quarter. Retail spending has been increasing at restaurants and building materials stores. While the spending at U.S. grocers is flat, a multitude of grocers in the Chicagoland are still working to absorb the market share vacated by Dominick's. For a list of list of these expanding retailers, please email to: vgadde@oswegoil.org.

DID YOU KNOW?

Retail stores still matter in an E-commerce world!

About 83 percent of the back-to-school supplies in the U.S. were purchased at brick-and-mortar retail stores. However, E-commerce has been the fastest-growing retail channel in the U.S. beauty market, with a compound annual growth rate of 24% since 2009, according to the Kline Group.
